Field Visits to:

- Sugar Terminal
The Sugar Terminal is situated on Maydon Wharf, which forms part of the Port of Durban, the busiest harbour on the African continent. The sugar terminal was built in the early 1960’s in order to reduce the handling costs of sugar, to relieve congestion of ships in the harbour and to prevent deterioration of sugar whilst in storage. The terminal’s objectives include ensuring that sugar is available on short notice, that there is space to handle more than one grade of sugar and most importantly that the industry could strategically time the sale of sugar into overseas markets. The total raw sugar capacity of the three silos is 525 000 tons.
- Transnet SOC Limited:
Transnet SOC Limited is the largest and most crucial part of the freight logistics chain that delivers goods to each and every South African. Every day Transnet delivers thousands of tons of goods around South Africa, through its pipelines and both to and from its ports. It moves the cargo on to ships for export while it also unloads goods from overseas. Their vision and mission is to be a focused freight transport company, delivering integrated, efficient, safe, reliable and cost-effective services to promote economic growth in South Africa. They aim to achieve this goal by increasing their market share, improving productivity and profitability and by providing appropriate capacity to our customers ahead of demand..
- Cappeny Estates
Cappeny Estates is KwaZulu-Natal’s newest and arguably its most popular hydroponic strawberry farm. Nestled between the rolling hills of iLembe and the Indian Ocean, a visit to Cappeny Estates is exciting as it is inspiring. The 17-hectare farm was built entirely from scratch by the Gumede Family, who are first-generation farmers and proud members of the Ballito community. The farm is SA and GLOBAL GAP certified, 100% export certified and compliant, Member of the South African Strawberry Growers Association and Member of the International Society of Horticultural Science.
